

Georgia Chapter of the American Fisheries Society

Fundraiser Donation Request Form
Virtual Annual Meeting January 19 - 21, 2021
Richmond Hill, Georgia

The Georgia Chapter of the American Fisheries Society (GAAFS) is an organization of fisheries professionals dedicated to the promotion of sound fisheries science and professional development. Each year, fisheries professionals and fisheries students from around the state gather at the Georgia Chapter AFS annual meeting to share their research and ideas and learn about the latest and greatest advancements in fisheries science, research, and management. Collectively, this group contributes to the wise use and management of aquatic resources in one of the most biologically diverse regions of our nation. Our Chapter is involved with the improvement of trout stream habitats, hosting training workshops for fisheries professionals/students, providing student scholarships, and supporting fisheries education outreach programs.

During our annual meeting we host the Chapter's annual fundraiser to raise money to support aquatic restoration projects, youth fishing opportunities, scholarships, and public outreach projects. We are asking for companies and individuals to make donations for our raffle/silent auction. All of our contributors are recognized on our website and our social media sites.

On behalf of the Georgia Chapter of the American Fisheries Society – thank you for your support.
